DETAILED ACTION

Priority

1. Receipt is acknowledged of papers submitted under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d), which papers have been placed of record in the file.

Drawings

2. The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the attenuating means between the racquet and the handle (claim 3) must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered.

Corrected drawing sheets are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. The replacement sheet(s) should be labeled "Replacement Sheet" in the page header (as per 37 CFR 1.84(c)) so as not to obstruct any portion of the drawing figures. If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary.

Art Unit: 3711

Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

5. Claims 1-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over U.S. Patent Number 5,458,331 (Bothwell) in view of U.S. Patent Numbers 5,775,716 (Harsanyi et al., hereinafter Harsanyi) and 5,875,694 (Lazarus et al., hereinafter Lazarus).

Regarding claims 1, 2, 4 and 5, Figures 1A and 1B of Bothwell show a racquet with an attenuation fluid to absorb shock. Also, see column 7, lines 24-35. Bothwell, in a preferred embodiment uses carbon dioxide instead of a fluid controlled by a magnetic field. However, the problem of dampening unwanted vibrations using magnetoviscous fluids and electronic controls is generally well-known in the sporting good art and especially in skis. See Harsanyi at column 5, lines 22-49. Further, Lazarus discloses the equivalence between tennis racquets and skis with respect to dampening vibrations. See Figures 1 and 10 of Lazarus. As such, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to substitute a magnetoviscous fluid with an electronic control for the attenuation fluid of Bothwell because the selection of any known dampening fluid to form the shock-absorber in Bothwell would be within the level of ordinary skill in the art.

Regarding claim 3, Lazarus also shows that shock attenuating means can be placed between the head and the handle. See column 14, lines 14-19.

Conclusion

6. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
